5th Annual Maine Wild Wine Fest Returns to Wolfe's Neck Center on May 16, 2026

Freeport, ME – February 16, 2026 – The 5th Annual Maine Wild Wine Fest is set to return on Saturday, May 16, 2026, at the picturesque Mallett Barn at Wolfe's Neck Center in Freeport, Maine. This beloved event celebrates the unique flavors of Maine's wild wines, offering attendees a chance to sip, savor, and learn about the region's vibrant wine-making culture.

"We're so excited to bring our fifth year of Maine Wild Wine Fest to life," says co-founder Margot Mazur. "This festival is all about connection—bringing together producers, importers, and wine lovers to celebrate the environment through minimal-intervention winemaking, all in a beautiful setting. We're proud to highlight both local makers and those from around the world, creating a space where people can taste, learn, and share in the joy of wild, living wines." This year's festival will feature two tasting sessions, a hands-on workshop, and a variety of local food trucks serving up delicious bites to complement the wines. Whether you're a wine enthusiast or simply looking for a fun way to spend a spring afternoon, the Maine Wild Wine Fest promises an unforgettable experience.

Event Highlights:

- Two Tasting Sessions: Choose from a morning or afternoon session to sample a curated selection of natural wines from top producers from the U.S. and abroad.
- Interactive Workshop: Dive deeper into the art of wine-making with a special workshop led by industry experts.
- Food Trucks: Enjoy a variety of offerings from Maine's favorite food trucks, perfect for pairing with your wine tastings.
- Scenic Venue: The historic Mallett Barn at Wolfe's Neck Center provides a stunning backdrop for this celebration of Maine's wine culture.
- New sponsorship opportunities are available for businesses looking to support sustainable agriculture and the region's vibrant wine-making culture.
